

THREE ISSUES OF BONDS IS PLAN OF HARRY MURRAY

Manager of Sewer and Water Departments Sees Need of $917,000

A definite plan for financing the extension of water and sewer mains throughout the city has been presented by Harry Murray, manager of those departments, to the finance committee of the supervisors.

An estimate of the cost of the extensions, submitted to the supervisors several weeks ago, totaled $917,000—$357,000 for water and $560,000 for sewer extensions. Murray proposes to raise this by three bond issues of $300,000 each, one a year for three years. His report shows that this will require a payment of $17,349 for interest and sinking fund the first year, $34,698 the second year and $52,047 each year thereafter on a 30-year bond issue.

On a ten-year issue the figures will be: $36,987, first year; $73,974, second year, and $110,967 a year thereafter.

His report goes into detail, showing the amount of bonded indebtedness of each department at present and the amount needed for interest and sinking fund on the total indebtedness if new bonds are issued and for operating expenses. He is in favor of a general tax to cover the expense of the sewer department, which his figures show will be $96,413.21 after the third year. He says that the additional interest and sinking fund of the water department can be paid out of the additional revenue to be derived from the extensions; in other words, that for a few weeks of slight increase of rates to San Francisco, then leaving the eastern markets to purchase the latest in millinery creations. She returns early in September.—Prescott, Jr., Journal-Miner.

FOUR ACCIDENTS TO AUTOMOBILES AUGUST RECORD

August started strong in automobile accidents. There were four minor ones the first day. The police report that D. Geller, driving an auto truck, ran into V. Goetzman of Fort Shafter on Queen street, near Kekaulike street, that a bicycle and an auto collided on King street, near Houghtaling road; that E. G. Hollman's car ran into G. Ishi's machine in Moanalua, near the polo grounds entrance, and that W. Week in an auto hit Hing Lee Chan's wagon on King street, near the fish market. There were no injuries and damages were slight in each instance.

Although a resume of police reports of auto accidents during July shows an average of one a day, with possibly more, if all had been brought to the notice of the police, W. J. Lillis, chauffeur examiner, says that accidents are less common this year, with more automobiles running, than in previous years.

Lillis says there are now over 2500 motor cars and trucks on Oahu and that it is especially difficult for anyone other than a competent driver to obtain a chauffeur's license. If an applicant's eyesight is poor he must furnish a doctor's certificate and before he secures his license he is put through every conceivable "tunt" with a car.

BIG ISLAND FOLK PAY MAINLAND FIGURES FOR SWEET PINES

A Honolulu visitor in Hilo recently returned with the complaint that pineapples were very expensive on the Big Island in comparison with the cost here. Several visitors to the Big Island have made this same complaint and wonder why there should be such a difference in price.

There is only one cause and that is the inter-island quarantine on pineapples because of the pineapple wilt. For some time shipment of pineapples from Oahu to Hawaii has been prohibited by law, and since there are practically no pineapples raised on the Big Island they are as expensive, if not more so, in Hilo, as on the coast.

Most of Hawaii's pineapples come from Maui, which is not under the quarantine ban, but the expense of transportation shoots their cost up in the air. Pineapples that cost 5 and 10 cents retail in Honolulu would bring two or three times as much in Hilo and are often hard to get at that price.

LITTLE INTERVIEWS

—T. T. BRUNSON, San Mateo, California: Four years ago when I was here with a lively gang the mayor gave us the town and we went out with barb-wire one night to fence it in, so nothing could escape us. I don't see anything of the fence now. I guess it broke because the town grew so fast.

—GILLSON BELL, San Francisco: I've been away for five years but the place always looks just as good only better. It's a real pleasure to come back to Honolulu. It's a "come back" town.

PERSONALITIES

H. T. ARNOLD of San Francisco arrived in Honolulu yesterday in the Wilhelmina with Mrs. Arnold for a month's visit. They are at the Young.

T. T. BRUNSON, a capitalist of San Mateo, California, says he is glad to see Honolulu again after four years. He arrived in the Wilhelmina Tuesday with Mrs. Brunson and their two children. They are at the Alexander Young hotel and will be here for about a month.

About 95 per cent. of the population of China is confined to one-third of the area of the country, with a density of 200 to the square mile. Five per cent. of the area, with a density of 10 to the square mile. Lack of transportation facilities and inadequate means of protection account for the sparseness of settlement in the outlying dependencies.

FEWER CASES OF T. B. REPORTED THAN LAST JULY

Seventeen fewer cases of tuberculosis in the islands were reported to the anti-tuberculosis bureau of the board of health in July than for July, 1915, the monthly report of the bureau, made public today, shows.

In July there were 43 new cases reported in the territory, against 60 in July, 1915, and 37 in July, 1914. Of the cases reported in July this year, 27 were male and 16 female.

Deaths from the disease in July were 21, against 18 in July, 1915, and 12 in July, 1914.

Of the new cases reported last month 15 were in Japanese, 14 in Hawaiians or part-Hawaiians, and 5 Chinese. Other nationalities possessed fewer cases.

LACK OF QUORUM IS CAUSE OF DELAY IN MEETING OF BOARD

Because Commissioner W. H. Smith of Hawaii and Commissioner Eric Knudsen of Kauai were unable to come to Honolulu to attend a session scheduled for 10 o'clock this morning, the meeting of the school board has been postponed until Monday, August 14, at 10 o'clock, at which time it is expected that a quorum will be available.

A wild rumor prevailed circuit court circles today to the effect that H. C. Brown and Mrs. Brown of Kauai, who were not appointed as principal and teacher respectively of the Waima school at the last meeting of the board, had begun legal proceedings against the board. A search of the docket, however, showed that no such action had been taken.

Mr. and Mrs. Brown will be given a hearing before the board at the next meeting.

WIFE MURDER IS POLICE CHARGE AGAINST GOMES

Man Once Tried for Assault is Now Arrested Again After Death of Wife

Following the death of his wife at the insane asylum Saturday, John Gomes was charged today with murder and will be arraigned in the police court Thursday. The police say that Mrs. Gomes died from the result of an assault upon her about six weeks ago by her husband. Gomes was arrested last night.

Gomes was charged in the police court July 1 with assault and battery upon his wife, found guilty and sentenced to 15 days in jail. The case was appealed and the defendant served none of his sentence, according to the police.

Mrs. Gomes came from a hospital bed, where she had been confined for two weeks, to testify against her husband. She limped to the stand and told a story of brutal beating.

Two days after the trial Mrs. Gomes was found, apparently raving mad, in front of her home in Luso street. She was immediately committed to the insane asylum.

Gomes is said to be a brakeman for the Oahu Railway & Land Company.

FORBES COMING BACK TO HONOLULU AUGUST 15

Charles R. Forbes, superintendent of public works, will return to Honolulu on the Matsonia August 15, says a letter received by Acting Superintendent W. C. Woodward.

The superintendent is now "hibernating" in the country north of San Francisco, according to Woodward. Forbes writes that he is taking a good rest after his strenuous experiences on the mainland, and that he will be glad to return to Hawaii.
